Page 1 | LEADER | Grade One Public Servants in Lebanon: Where Sectarianism Rules Page 7 || Sectarianism in Lebanese Judiciary:
Posts Reserved for Particular Confessions but the New Appointments are Sectarianism-free

Page 9 || Victims of School Bus Accidents: Why Isn't the Law Being Enforced? Page 10 || School Students Opinion Poll [1/2]

Page 14 | Lebanon Judges: Less Senior Judges and More Women
Page 15 | Arab Field Hospitals in Lebanon: A Basic Need,
yet Lebanese Hospitals Do Not Follow the Example

Page 17 | IiMONTHLY meets Abdu Al Hussaini,
Director of the Lebanese Festivals' Marketing Firm

Page 18 || Mazra'at Beit Bou Slaibi:

A Town Missing From the Map

Page 19 | | Thy Confession Begets Thy name... Maybe! 66,587 Lebanese named "Hassan" and "Hussein"

Page 20 | Historic Tourist Attractions in Jordan
Page 21 | The Lebanese Syndrome: Consequences

A publication by INFORMATION INTERNATIONAL

issue number 53 | November 2006

www.iimonthly.com

LEBANON: PATRONAGE AND SENIOR CIVIL SERVANTS MARONITES IN THE LEAD (42) FEMALES NEARLY ABSENT (5).

LEBANON: SCHOOL STUDENTS

LESS INCLINED

THAN UNIVERSITY STUDENTS TOWARDS

SECTARIANISM, SMOKING & ALCOHOL

SECTARIANISM IN LEBANON JUDICIARY

MAJORITY IS MARONITE (215 JUDGES) FEMALES TOWARDS THE LEAD (37%)